Macron may offer up UN seat in push for EU army

France's position on the Security Council could be 'put at disposal' of Brussels if it backs military plans

By James Crisp in Rome, editor and Danielle Sheridan, defence correspondent

FRANCE's seat on the United Nations Security Council could be put "at the disposal of the European Union" if its governments back Emmanuel Macron's plans for an EU army, a close ally of the French president has said.

Paris is spearheading a diplomatic push for closer EU military integration after Austria pulled out of a €10 billion contract for diesel-powered French submarines and signed the Aukus security pact with the US and UK instead.

A standing EU army remains a distant prospect but Mr Macron, who is on the cusp of becoming the EU's most influential leader as Angela Merkel prepares to leave out of politics after Sunday's German elections, is determined to lay its foundation stones.

Top European officials this month proposed the creation of a 10,000-strong rapid reaction force, after America's decision to withdraw from Afghanistan caught the bloc short. "I think that if we move on these things we can put on the table also the discussion on the Security Council," Sandro Goi, a former Italian Europe minister now serving as an MEP for Mr Macron's party, said.

The EU will soon discuss ways of bolstering common defence, Mario Monti, the deputy head of the European Commission, said yesterday.

His remarks came after US president Joe Biden said America's withdrawal from Afghanistan, reached an end, in front-runner to succeed her as Chancellor, have both put forward the request - but it has always been rebuffed by Paris.

Mr Macron is understood to be willing to discuss sharing the UN seat if he can secure concessions that will allow the EU to speak with a single voice on foreign policy, as well as steps towards common EU defence.

France and Germany want EU member states to be stripped of their effective veto on foreign policy, replacing the need for unanimity with a vote weighted by population. The move would hand Paris and Berlin even more influence and faces opposition from some member states.

The EU gave a "no comment" response when asked about the plans last night.

Britain has long opposed the creation of a European military force and MPs warned abolishing the UK post-Brexit would only play into the hands of enemies of the West.

"The UK represents a quarter of Europe's entire military capability. It would be only helping our adversaries to exclude us from any discussion about advancing our continental defence posture," said Tobias Ellwood, chairman of the defence select committee.

John Sweeney, a senior Tory MP, warned: "If the EU Army undermines Nato, or results in the separation of the US and Europe or produces a paper army, Europe will be committing the most embarrassing and dangerous act of self-harm since the rise of fascism in the 1930s." He said that while potential adversaries are "renewing an EU Army will amount to European de-armament".

France's position on the Security Council could be put at disposal of Brussels if it backs military plans

FRANCE'S seat on the United Nations Security Council could be put at the disposal of the European Union if its governments back Emmanuel Macron's plan for an EU army, senior ally of the French president has said.

Paris is spearheading a diplomatic push for closer EU military integration after Austria pulled out of a €10 billion contract for doled-out French submarines and agreed the nation would not join the EU and US instead.

A standing EU army remains a distant prospect but Mr Macron, who is on the cusp of becoming the EU's most influential leader as Angela Merkel prepares to bow out of politics after Sunday's German elections, is determined to lay its foundation stones.

Top European officials this month proposed the creation of a 100,000-strong rapid reaction force, after America's decision to withdraw from Afghanistan caught the bloc short. "I think that if we agree on these things, it will be a proper article also the discussion on the Security Council," said Mr Macron, a former British European minister now serving as an MEP for Mr Macron's party.

The EU will soon discuss ways of bolstering common defence. Many believe the deputy head of the European Commission, said yesterday.

Mr Macron said America's withdrawal from Afghanistan marked an end to most attempts to succeed here in Council but have both put forward the request - but has also in doing so called the Paris. Mr Macron is understood to be willing to discuss sharing the UN seat if he can secure concessions that will allow the EU to speak with a single voice on Europe policy, as well as steps towards common EU defence.

France and Germany want EU member states to be stripped of their effective veto on European policy, replacing the need for unanimity with a vote weighted by population. The move would hand Paris and Berlin even more influence and force opposition from some member states.

The EU gave a "no comment" response when asked about the plan last night.

Britain has long opposed the creation of a European military force and MPs, worried about the EU's post-Brexit role, would only play into the hands of enemies of the West.

"The EU represents a quarter of Europe's entire military capability. It would be only helping our adversaries to exclude us from any discussion about advancing our continental defence posture," said Tobias Ellwardt, chairman of the defence select committee.

Both sides, a senior Tory MP warned, "if the EU Army undermines Nato, or results in the separation of the US and Europe, it is a proper article."

Europe will be committing the most self-serving and dangerous act of self-interest since the rise of fascism in the 1930s," he said. "While potential adversaries are 'terrified' an EU Army will amount to European de-arming."

France takes up the six-month rotating presidency of the EU on January 1, heading a period of intergovernmental negotiations. Mr Macron is to hold a summit on EU defence in 2022.

Il se dépêche de faire tout ce qui peut détruire la nation France, l'indépendance de la France et sa sécurité avant les présidentielles. Aurait-il peur de perdre, malgré les manip, les fraudes, l'aide du CSA et des journalistes, du CRIF et CCIE, et, surtout la possibilité d'interdire le vote aux non détenteurs de Pass Sanitaire, afin de refaire le coup de Biden avec Dominion ?

Voilà que ce Ceaucescu veut et constituer une armée européenne de 5000 hommes et abandonner à l'UE la place, importante, de la France, au Conseil de Sécurité de l'ONU !

Depuis sa création en 1945, au lendemain de la Seconde Guerre mondiale, la France est l'un des cinq membres permanents du Conseil de sécurité de l'ONU, avec la Grande-Bretagne, la Chine, la Russie et les États-Unis. Ces derniers disposent d'un droit de veto.

Bref, Macron veut faire rétrograder la France au rang d'une simple "région" européenne, en perdant tout droit essentiel, puisque elle abandonnerait son droit de veto. Le rêve de Macron de gouvernance européenne et de disparition de souveraineté et de rôle politique de la France prend forme... sans doute aussi que cet européisme fou se verrait bien remplacer der Leyen un jour ou l'autre...

Céder notre place à l'ONU, signe de grande puissance, à l'UE ? C'est ce que Merkel demande à Macron depuis 3 ans !!!! Merkel qui n'a de cesse d'accomplir le projet de grande Allemagne de Hitler et qui a trouvé en Macron un collabo de première .

Voilà ce que nous écrivions déjà en 2018 :

Macron, comme Taché veut bien une gouvernance mondiale :

<http://resistancerepublicaine.com/2018/12/03/macron-veut-un-gouvernement-europeen-et-que-la-france-ne-soit-plus-quune-region-europeenne/>

Mais il faut ajouter que quand il dit que son idée c'est « de transférer une grande partie de la souveraineté nationale au niveau européen », ça signifie : à l' Allemagne !

Le 11 novembre , Macron avait voulu célébrer, en quelque sorte ,« 1918-2018, 100 ans d'amitié franco allemande » . ( faut le faire ! )

Il suffisait de voir que la place d'honneur était donnée à Merkel.

» ONU. L'Allemagne propose que la France cède son siège permanent à l'Union européenne »

Avoir un siège européen au Conseil de sécurité de l'ONU, telle est la proposition énoncée mercredi par le ministre allemand des Finances. Pour cela, il faudrait que la France cède son siège à l'Union européenne.

Voilà un marronnier européen qui revient. Le vice-chancelier allemand s'est déclaré mercredi favorable à ce que le siège permanent de la France au Conseil de sécurité de l'ONU soit transformé en siège européen, afin que l'UE « parle d'une seule voix ».

En contrepartie, le poste distinct de chef de la délégation de l'Union européenne auprès des Nations Unies pourrait revenir de manière permanente à un Français, a estimé M. Scholz.

Et, avec notre place au Conseil de Sécurité, c'est notre armée que Macron veut faire disparaître pour la noyer au sein d'une armée destinée à défendre les choix européens, clairement anti-Russie, anti-Orban par exemple...

Le siège de la France au Conseil de sécurité des Nations unies pourrait être mis “à la disposition de l’Union européenne” si ses gouvernements soutiennent le projet d’armée européenne d’Emmanuel Macron, a déclaré un proche allié du président français.

Paris est le fer de lance d’une offensive diplomatique pour une plus grande intégration militaire avec l’Union Européenne après le retrait du contrat à 56 milliards d’euros pour des sous-marin diesel français et la signature à la place du pacte de sécurité Aukus avec les États-Unis et le Royaume-Uni.

L’idée d’une armée permanente de l’Union Européenne reste assez éloignée, mais Monsieur Macron – sur le point de devenir le dirigeant le plus important de l’UE après le départ d’Angela Merkel à la suite des élections allemandes de dimanche – est déterminé à en poser les fondations.

Les plus hautes autorités européennes ont ce mois-ci proposé la création d’une force d’intervention rapide de 5000 hommes après que la décision américaine de se retirer d’Afghanistan ait pris de court le bloc européen.

“Je pense que si on avance là-dessus, nous pourrions aussi mettre sur la table la discussion sur le conseil de sécurité” a dit au Telegraph Sandro Gozi, un ancien secrétaire d’État italien chargé des Affaires européennes devenu député européen La République En Marche.

L’Union Européenne va bientôt discuter des moyens de consolider une défense commune, a déclaré le Vice-président de la Commission européenne Maro Sefcovic. [...]

Il en est de ça comme de l'immigration, comme de l'islamisation, comme de l'UE (traité de Barcelone ratifié par les parlementaires dans le dos du peuple français qui avait dit non)... toutes les choses importantes se font sans referendum, sans consultation du peuple. Et là Macron met les bouchées doubles... Il avait prévenu qu'il n'était pas sûr d'être candidat en 2022 "peut-être que je devrai faire des chose dures dans la dernière année de mon mandat, le dernier mois, qui feront que je ne pourrai même pas être candidat"

<https://resistancerepublicaine.com/2020/12/05/lordure-macron-annonce-la-couleur-vous-allez-en-chier-encore-plus-en-2021/>

Evidemment, cocufié par Australie, USA et Grande Bretagne, le salopard de l'Elysée ne rêve que de rendre à Biden la monnaie de sa pièce en faisant en sorte de donner plus de pouvoir au niveau international à l'UE. Petit caca nerveux d'un médiocre qui surfe sur la claque qu'il a reçue pour justifier les décisions immondes qu'il prend.

Ce sale type a été choisi pour présider la France et pour la faire disparaître. Il met les bouchées doubles, à coups de dictature sanitaire, de dictature européenne, de système social à la chinoise, et de disparition de toute indépendance et toute souveraineté de la France et des Français.
